Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs of the female system. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "run-down," "run-down" or debilitated, especially for women who work in stores, offices or schoolrooms, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proven a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving powers.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve tonic, it is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womanly organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Cure obstinate cases. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of "female weakness," painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medical roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities.

Your druggists sell the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alternative blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the "Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

A Nurse's Terrible Deed.

Rosa Nagle, a governess and nurse of Berne, Switzerland, returning to New York from a visit to her native land, suddenly became a maniac on the Holland-America steamship Nieuw Amsterdam which arrived at New York yesterday from Rotterdam and Boulogne.

On the afternoon of the fifth day out from Boulogne, November 15, in mid-ocean, while the liner was plunging through white-crested three-storied seas the young governess saw on the deck below her a group of children of the second cabin playing ring game. Some of their mothers, who could stand the motion of the ship, were sitting near by. Miss Nagle ran down to the children and began dancing with them and singing, in German. Occasionally she picked up one of the smallest and held it arm's length above her head while it cried and gurgled.

She seemed to be especially fascinated by one-year-old Aaron Gnowski, who was too unsteady on his legs to form a link in the juvenile circle and contended himself with a place to one side.

The governess grabbed up the baby and ran to the ship's rail and laid the little one on it. The mother ran toward the child and just as she was about to raise a laugh heard over half the ship, raised the child and tossed it into the sea.

Then the governess turned to the mothers and let out a series of shrieks that sent them and their little ones scampering for protection.

It was thought that she intended to make a sea sacrifice of others as she ran after the children, but before she had gone half across the deck she was seized by officers, who locked her up.

A lifeboat was quickly launched and manned by volunteer sailors but all their efforts to rescue the child were fruitless.

Killed by a French Woman.

Gustave Simon, president of the Queen Waist Company, in New York, was shot by a French woman, Mme. Anastasie Louise de Massy, yesterday afternoon in his office, on the sixth floor of the Holtz building, at 604 Broadway, and died last night.

Mme. de Massy has been working for Mr. Simon as a waist designer and went to his office at 3 o'clock to collect wages due her, she told the police.

Mr. Simon was sitting at his desk talking with O. H. Travis, one of his salesmen, when Mme. de Massy, black haired, black-eyed, pale, tall and a well-dressed woman of 37 years of age, opened the office door and walked in. Simon looked up, recognized her as a designer who had quit her job last Friday and asked her what she wanted.

"I want my money," she said.

"You will have to come back at 5:30 o'clock," said Simon.

"No; I must have it now," said Mme. de Massy.

"Well, you won't get it now," said Simon, turning to Travis.

The woman turned around and stepped out into the hallway, fumbling at a pocket in the skirt of her tight-fitting black dress. Simon went on talking to Travis and neither of the men noticed that Mme. de Massy was still just outside the office door, still fumbling with the pocket.

The next thing they knew she was standing in the doorway with a revolver in her hand, eyes flashing, face flushed, evidently furiously angry. Before she could be seized she fired three shots. Two went wild, but one bullet entered Simon's body below the shoulder blade. Mme. de Massy was arrested. Mrs. Massy today alleged that her shooting of Simons had been prompted by the belief that he had been instrumental in causing the death of her husband by poisoning three years ago.

Pope Threatened.

The Pope has received personal letters containing threats that he will be assassinated in the Apostolic Palace as a protest against the present organization of society. The anarchists, it is added, are ready to employ every means to destroy all religious institutions supported by military forces.

The Pope has kept one of the nails which formed the charge of the bomb exploded Sunday in St. Peter's as a souvenir of the explosion.

The threatening letter received by the pontiff shows that the anarchists who exploded the bomb in St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday had been detailed to attempt to assassinate the Pope. The long-time fuse of the deadly machine was probably lighted by the anarchist during the service in the expectation that the Pope would go to the tomb of Clement XIII. to pray, as it had been reported he would. The scaffolding concealed the bomb.

It was reported last night that the man suspected of causing the explosion in St. Peter's and the Cafe Aragno had a woman accomplice who carried the bombs. She is said to have lighted the fuse of one inside St. Peter's while pretending to kneel in prayer, but no clues have been found that would lead to her or her principal's arrest. The government has offered a reward of $200 for their capture.

Whisky "Quarts" are Short.

Commissioner Yerkes, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, has issued a circular letter to collectors, saying that recent reports show that bottled-in-bond spirits are being placed on the market in bottles stamped and sold as containing one quart, which in some instances are found to be short in measure as much as two ounces to a bottle, the government stamp thus being made to show a quantity of spirits in excess of the actual contents of the bottles. In view of this fact, every distiller who is engaged in bottling spirits in bond is required to at once provide himself with a standardized glass graduate and see to it that the bottles are of the required capacity. Storekeepers are instructed to see that this regulation is carried out.

Severe on Woman Suffragists.

There will be no such demonstrations by woman suffragists in Germany as have occurred in England if the authorities are able to crush the movement by rigorous court proceedings. The hand of the powers was shown yesterday in the trial of Miss Anna Augspurg, leader of the women's rights movement in Hamburg, when a penalty of a year's imprisonment against her was asked for interfering with and insulting policemen who broke up a woman demonstration. Miss Augspurg violently opposed the interference of officers and the latter attacked the women with drawn swords. Several women were slashed in the affair.

An Archbishop's Warning.

Archbishop William H. O'Connell was heard yesterday for the first time since his consecration as coadjutor archbishop at the dedication of St. Patrick's Church, in Lowell, Mass. Archbishop O'Connell, referring to the Lowell neighborhood as a great industrial center, said in part:

"When inordinate greed for wealth presses the laborer beyond endurance, then work becomes slavery, and slavery is the mother of revolt. If with increased wealth, with prosperity which floods the land as if God were showering His blessings upon the nation, hand in hand went a corresponding gratitude to God, all would yet be well. But when men's hearts grow only harder when the blessings of heaven fall on stony ground, thorns and thistles grow instead of wholesome grain. The dangers which are now confronting us and which, if men do not have a care, will assume alarming proportions, are in reality nothing new, they are but the repetition of the evils of paganism which Christ came to heal. The lessening of labor and the increase of wages will never in themselves settle the eternal unrest of humanity. The blame is not with any one class—the fault is general and is daily increasing."
